

A small Himalayan hamlet located remotely with its offbeat characteristics, is a new destination in the tourism map of Komaon Hills .It lies silently on the laps of lush green woods of the Himalayas, situated at an altitude of 6600 ft (1997 Mts.) on the Mukteshwar(8 km)-Almora road. It is a village of few, small but beautiful, old but lively, remote but approachable.

Travelling through the serpentine road, adorned with towering pines and oak trees, you reach the destination and there you behold - the gorgeous Himalayas with snow-clad peaks. Down below, the chains of mountains - offering their homage, fade into the horizon.
