

Nestled in the Himalayas at a height of 7,000 feet with a panoramic view of the Greater Himalayan peaks like Nandadevi, Trishul and Panchchuli, Sitla Estate makes for the perfect getaway.

Spread over 39 acres, this beautiful Estate has lush fruit orchards, a hundred year-old British stone bungalow and dense oak and pine forest cover. The Estate is bordering a reserve forest teeming with bird and animal life. Deer, bear and panther are not novelties in these forests. The property, has allowed the jungle to encroach on his land making it a safe haven for wildlife.

Accommodation

All The 5 rooms are well maintained and have a beautiful old world charm. In spite of the seemingly rustic aura, all basic amenities like attached modern bathrooms are taken care of. Vikaram Maira an accomplished, conjures up a variety of Indian, continental and Chinese meals that one would least expect to find in so isolated a mountain retreat.

These wholesome meals are cooked from fresh vegetables that are organically grown at Sitla Estate. The Estate's spring fed fruit orchards ensure an abundant supply of home made jams and juices for guests to savour. What makes Sitla Estate truly unique though, is the personalised service and care, catering to all tastes.
